

Insufficient waste water treatment in Ireland in the focus of European Parliamentary question, media and Court of Justice

The issue of insufficiently treated waste water draining into the catchment of Lower Cork Harbour (Ireland) draw parallel attention by a Member of the European Parliament, media and Commission and Court of Justice.