

Bathing water quality across Europe: excellent results

The Bathing Water Report for the 2018 bathing season, published by the European Environment Agency, confirms that bathing waters in Europe are of high quality, with 95 % of these sites meeting minimum water quality standards set out in EU legislation.

Overall bathing water quality in the European Union between 2014 and 2018

% of all bathing waters

- Quality classification not possible
- Poor quality
- Sufficient quality
- Good quality
- Excellent quality

Source: WISE data base

© European Environment Agency, European Commission