

Issue 5/2021

Poland to Pay Fine for Lignite Activities at Túrów

Photo source: Wikipedia DE edition, Author: Wolkenkratzer

Poland has been fined by the European Commission due to failure to stop lignite extraction activities at Turów mine.

Poland decided to keep its disputed Turów coal mine operating last month despite being informed to pay a 500,000 euro penalty per day to the European Commission for resisting an earlier court ruling to halt operations.