

Issue 1/2023

UK: Bathing ‘not advised’ at Blackpool North beach after water quality deemed ‘poor’ by Environment Agency

Beach-goers were advised not to swim in the sea near Blackpool North after the water failed to meet minimum standards during testing for bacterial water pollution. However, in general there is improvement on English beaches.

EWA NEWS provides you maps / links on bathing water quality in England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland.