

Newsletter Issue 1/2024

Flood risk

New flood risk areas viewer available to raise awareness about significant flood risks
State of play flood risk management plans

Over 14,000 areas in the EU are at significant risk of flooding, according to a new online viewer launched by Commission and the European Environment Agency. The viewer presents for the first time in one map the areas in the European Union which, according to the national authorities, carry a potentially significant flood risk.

Link to the viewer is provided.